

New Zealand born Steven Jaymes is a piano-based songwriter with a smoky, soulful voice and ear for an uplifting melody. That's the nature of the singing piano player I suppose the Elton Johns and The Joe Jacksons are few and far between – but there's also a healthy leavening of the spirit of Leon Russell, Bruce Springsteen and Van Morrison in there too, which makes Steven Jaymes and his Piano Style a classic and unique Style. Steven has lived and performed all over the world. From New York and Bleaker St and the famed Bitter End to Ronnie Scotts in London where very few singer songwriters get to perform, and now for the first time in more than 20 years back in his home country. Stevens First professional gigs were at the SKYLINE and ALBERTS Nightclub so there is a history and a connection to Queenstown that goes back quite a way and a few more stories to yet to unfold.....
